IMMIGRATION BILL READY FOR HOUSE

Measure Almost Identical With That Which Taft Vetoed, Is Practically Ready for Report

ALL AMENDMENTS DEFEATED

Pacific Coast Members of the Committee Attempt to Insert Amendments Barring Japs and Chinese, But Every Effort Fails

COMMITTEE WILL REPORT MONDAY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—The immigration bill substantially identical with that which President Taft vetoed with its inclusion of a literacy test for immigrants, practically was ready tonight for report to the house Monday. Pacific Coast members of the committee, Representatives Baker and Hayes (California) and Johnson, (Washington,) tried, by a string of proposed amendments to insert amendments that would effectually bar out Japanese and Chinese and Hindu labor under the term Asiatics, but every effort failed by a vote that ranged from 6 to 4 and 7 to 5, so sustained the original text of the bill bearing on this question.

The bill as it stands, put into the class of aliens who shall be excluded from the United States "persons who cannot become eligible under existing law to become citizens of the United States by naturalization, unless otherwise provided for by existing agreements as to passports or by treaties, conventions, or agreements that may hereafter be entered into."

Attack Literacy Test.

Representatives Goldfogel of New York and Sabath of Illinois, attacked the literacy test provisions but without result. The committee will meet again Monday to prefunctorily pass upon the bill and will report to the public that day.

The bill which Representative Burnett, chairman of the committee will urge for pasage by the house is designed to keep out of the United States all aliens more than 6 years old who cannot read their own language, including Hebrew and Yiddish, the main target of attack by Representatives Goldfogel and Sabath.

It would except from this test, however, those fleeing from religious persecution, also an admissible aliens' mother, wife or grandmother, or father and grandfather if they are over 55 years old and also an admissible aliens' unmarried or widowed daughters. It would also increase the head tax from $4 to $5 and require matrons and inspectors on trans-oceanic liners.

SUBMARINE DISTURBANCE CASTS UP ANCIENT WRECKAGE

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., Dec. 13.—A submarine disturbance which has kept the ocean along the south coast in fury for several days cast up the wreckage of an ancient ship near here today. A few miles southward part of a mastodon's skeleton which apparently had been brought up from a great depth was washed ashore. The skeleton fragments included about thirty-five feet of vertebrae and the skull with eight foot tusks intact.

The ships wreckage bore indications that it had lain on the ocean bottom for perhaps one hundred years. It was thickly coated with barnacles.

PERUGIA DECLARES HE HAD NO ACCOMPLICES

DID NOT TAKE "MONA LISA" THROUGH A DESIRE FOR GAIN

Italian Asserts He Took Oath That He Would be Unworthy of Italy if He Did Not Return One of the Stolen Masterpieces—Geri Will Receive Reward.

FLORENCE, Italy, Dec. 13.—Vincenso Perugia, from whom Leonardo da Vinci's masterpiece, "Mona Lisa" was recovered yesterday, declared to the police today that he had no accomplices either direct or indirect in the theft of the painting from the Louvre.

"I did not take the painting through a desire for gain," he said, "but wished to accomplish a good and holy work by returning to my country one of the many treasures stolen from it."

While working in the Louvre, he continued, he was overcome with shame on hearing visitors indicate the best works as Italian.

One day he took this oath:

"I will be unworthy of Italy if I do not return to her one of these masterpieces."

When he could delay no longer, he found that he could accomplish his purpose without great difficulty, as he was already known by those employed about the building. After the theft he was interrogated by the police but his frankness and his request that they search his room disarmed suspicion. Similiarly when he crossed the French frontier, he so readily opened his work box for the authorities that they neglected to search it. The antiquary, Geri, will receive the rewards offered by the French government and Paris newspapers for the recovery of the picture.

The "Mona Lisa" has been placed temporarily in Uffizi gallery where it reposed a hundreds years ago. By permission of French government and in response to requests received from hundreds of Florentines, Dr. Corrado Ricci, director general of the department of fine arts, has decided to exhibit it for a day or two declaring this gallery is its legitimate place.

When Dr. Recci was again asked today if he was absolutely certain that this was the genuine "Mona Lisa" he replied, "I only wish that the French experts would consider it a copy; then it would remain in Italy."

BOARD OF CONTROL DISCUSSES MICHIGAN-HARVARD FOOTBALL GAME

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Dec. 13.—There are fair prospects for a football game between the University of Michigan and Harvard next autumn. The university board of control at a meeting tonight discussed the invitation for a game recently received from the Harvard authorities. It was announced, however, that any publicity concerning the negotiations must come from the Harvard officials.

Before the regents met Philip Bartelme, athletic director said he did not favor playing Harvard at Cambridge next season unless the Wolverines were promised a game to be played at Ann Arbor in 1915.

JURY AGREES MURDER IS COMMITTED IN SELF DEFENSE

GALESBURG, Ills., Dec. 13.—Everett Buck, 17 years old, tonight was found not guilty of murder of Harley Dalton woh was stabbed to death by Buck at Gilson, Ills., an August 28th. The jury agreed on the first ballot that Buck had killed in self defense.

Dalton and Buck were rivals in love. Buck won the girl's hand but Dalton attempted to break up the Buck home by circulating slanderous stories about Mrs. Buck. Five weeks after Buck's marriage, Dalton went to the Buck home and quarrelled with Buck over his pretended relations with Mrs. Buck before her marriage. A fight followed and Buck stabbed Dalton to death.

REPORTS PRESIDENT'S CONDITION NORMAL

RUMORS OF WILSON'S CONDITION BEING ALARMING ARE GROUNDLESS

Although The President's Cold Has Caused Him Some Discomfort, White House Officials Expect Him Back at His Desk the Early Part of This Week.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—President Wilson continued today to nurse an aggravated cold which has kept him in his room since last Tuesday. Most of the time he has remained in bed.

White house officials expect the president back at his desk the early part of next week. It had been his wish to attend the dinner of the gridiron club tonight and he himself thought he was well enought to go, but his physician would not permit it.

The following official statement was given out at the white house:

"Secretary Tumulty stated at the white house that reports of the president's condition being alarming were groundless. His condition was described as normal and satisfactory except for a cold which has caused him some discomfort, but has at no time threatened any complications.

"As a matter of precaution, Dr. Grayson the attending physician, advised that the president suspend his usual official activities including the receiving of visitors in order to throw off the cold and give him an opportunity for rest and recuperation. The expectation is that the president will resume his official duties early next week. There is nothing in the president's condition to cause the slightest alarm."

Caught Cold at Game.

The president has not been entirely well since he attended the Army-Navy football game in New York. Sitting in the open stands, he developed a cold which, however, after a few days' confinement to his room yielded to treatment. Last Monday he felt well enough to take a walk. In the cold wind that was blowing that day, it is believed the president caught additional cold and when he attended the meeting of the Red Cross on Tuesday his voice was weak from its effects. His physician then ordered him to bed. It has been the intention of the president to take a vacation during the holiday recess of congress. This was officially announced recently together with the statement that the New Year's reception would not take place owing to the president's absence.

In view of the uncertainty of a recess of congress in connection with the progress of the currency friends of the president have been urging him to go to a southern climate, regardless of congress suspending its activities during the holidays. Copies of official despatches of importance were shown the president during the day. He transacted no business however, but dictated a letter, expressing to the members of the gridiron club his regret at being unable to attend the dinner.

"I will miss you more than you will miss me," wrote the president.

ATTORNEY ARGUES FOR APPEAL IN PFANSCHMIDT CASE

Cites Numerous Errors to Court, Among Them Being the Alleged Undue Activity of the Sheriff.

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 13—Attorney Emery Lancaster of Quincy argued for an hour today before the Illinois supreme court on a motion for an appeal from the judgment of the Adams county circuit court which sentenced Ray Pfanschmidt to pay the death penalty for the murder of his parents, sister and a young lady boarder in the Pfanschmidt home. Numerous errors are cited by the attorney for the condemned youth, among them being alleged undue activity on the part of the sheriff. It is also claimed that the passage by the legislature of an act extending the term of circuit court in Adams county in order to finish the trial at the term at which the case was called, constituted special legislation. If the supreme court declines to review the case it is expected that the date for the execution will be set following the Christmas holidays.

FEDERALS ROUT REBELS AT TAMPICO

Heavy Fire from Gunboats Bravo and Zaragoza Results in Complete Rout of the Rebels

HUNDREDS REPORTED KILLED

Dispatch States Hundreds of Rebels Are Killed During Bombardment and That Remainder of Army Fled Toward Victoria

SPANIARDS TELL OF VILLA'S LOOTING

BULLETIN.

EL PASO, Texas, Dec. 14.—A special train bearing 500 foreigners, mostly Americans and Germans arrived from Chihuahua at one o'clock this morning. They said the exodus of foreigners on account of the rebels was general.

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 13.—A heavy bombardment by two gunboats and the federal field artillery resulted today in the complete rout of the rebels at Tampico, according to a war office report received from General Rabago tonight.

Hundreds of rebels the report states were killed within an hour and the remainder of the rebel army is reported to be in full flight towards Victoria.

General Rabago's report, as made public by the war office states that the Gunboats Bravo and Zaragoza started down the river towards Arbol Grande and Dona Creelia which have been centers of the rebel operations for the past three days. Back in the city, General Rabago says, it had been planned to give the gunboats the co-operation of the land forces.

The rebels along the river bank appeared to believe the gunboats were attempting to escape and were caught off their guard when the shelling began.

The report insists that 800 men were killed before the rebels could get out of range. As soon as the flight began, General Rabago started his cavalry in pursuit and at midnight his troopers were hanging on the rear of the fleeing rebels whose going is described in the report as a rout.

Earlier reports, believed to be authentic, sent from Tampico, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon said that the positions on both sides had not been materially altered from yesterday and that the firing from both sides continued.

The oil people are the most vitally interested in possible property loss at Tampico, since there is stored in the immediate vicinity of the combatants not less than 5,000,000 barrels of oil and other destructable property which, it is estimated is valued at not less than 50,000,000 pesos.

Wood is the material commonly used in the buildings of Tampico, thus enhancing the chances of destructive fires.

Stories of Wholesale Looting.

El Paso, Tex., Dec. 13.—Stories of wholesale looting by General Francisco Villa's rebel army on its entrance into Chihuahua, Mexico, of the dispelling of treasures, of the robbing of Spanish priests and nuns, of the confiscation of property and demands for exhorbitant sums of money, were brought here today with the arrival of 478 citizens of Spain who had been banished from Mexico by the rebels.

Conditions affecting foreigners and foreign property in Northern Mexico at the hands of the rebels, became such today that an appeal was sent to General Carranza recognized as the dead of the revolution to prevent possible international complications. General Carranza was asked to join General Francisco Villa in Chihuahua City at once.

The representation was made that in arbitrarily expelling Spaniards from Mexico and confiscating or shutting down their property, valued at more than $5,000,000, Villa had acted without sufficient advice and that he had incurred the displeasure of foreign interests in forcibly entering the British vice-consulate to arrest Luis Terrazas, Jr., who is being held for $250,000 ransom.

Consul Denied Rights.

Complaint also was made to the United States that Marion Letcher, the American consul at Chihuahua was denied his usual rights to send a code message to the state department when he wished to report the plight of the expelled Spaniards. The United States consul, the British vice-consul and the Spaniards therefore sent protests to their respective governments. It was represented to the foreign govrnments that Villa had ignored the friendly inquiries of the consuls when they sought information as to the probable fate of Terrazas who is a son of one of the richest men in the republic and that Villa violated the rules of international warfare in refusing protection to Spaniards. His holding of Terrazas, a Mexican, for a ransom, was described as the act of a brigand.

MAIL CLERK KILLS THREE; WOUNDS WIFE

SHOOTS FATALLY HIMSELF AND MAN AND WIFE WHO BEFRIENDED WOMAN

Mrs. Harner, the Assassin's Wife is Seriously Wounded But Expected to Live—Tragedy Takes Place in West Side Chicago Business District.

CHICAGO, Dec. 13.—Emmanuel Harner, a railway mail clerk divorced a year ago from his wife today shot and killed a man nd his wife who hd befriended the woman, attempted to kill his former wife and committed suicide. The dead are Louis F. Nieman, Mrs. Emma Nieman and Harner. Mrs. Harner was seriously wounded. Her life was saved by a steel corset stay which deflected the bullet. She is expected to live. The shooting took place in the west side business district in the busiest hour of the afternoon. Nieman and his wife conducted a millinery store. They had supplied the funds which enabled Mrs. Harner after she had divorced her husband on grounds of drunkenness and cruelty to open a confectionery store adjoining their's. Harner was 53 years old; his wife is 43. She has a daughter 18 years old and a son of fifteen.

Harner, according to Mrs. Harner, the only witness to the shooting left alive first came to the confectionery store. He attempted to upbraid her and pleaded for a reconciliation. She fled for protection to the Nieman's store. When Nieman and his wife tried to interfere and ordered Harner to leave he gave way to rage and shot them both. He than pursued his former wife through the backway into her own store and shot her down. Thinking her dead he went into her bedroom and there fired a shot into his own brain.

SHIFT BOSS OF UTAH MINE DECLARES HE SAW LOPEZ

Sam Rogers Resigns Position and Refuses To Re-enter Mine—Says He Talked To Bandit Twice.

Bingham, Utah, Dec. 13.—Shiftboss Sam Rogers, resigned his position today and left Bingham. Not for the world, he said, would he ever enter the Utah-Appex mine in which Ralph Lopez, unerring gunman is supposed to be hiding.

The sheriffs tonight resumed searching of the workings. The process of searching a section of the mine and then bulkheading it up so as to eliminate that part from further consideration, is beginning to halt mining operations and this the owners opposed. After a legal conference however, the company withdrew its objections late today.

Rogers told today of having twice talked to Lopez during the last two days and of the desperado remarking they would meet again today. But when the time came for the shiftboss to enter the tunnel he was on his way to Salt Lake.

"I didn't see his ghost, I saw Lopez. Lopez smiling but with his eyes like coals of fire," declared Rogers.

Not a man in Bingham doubts his word, but there are many who are willing to be he saw a ghost. The impomptu bookmakers shifted their odds from 3 to 1 that Lopez was neither dead or alive in the mine to 3 to 1 that he was.

The sheriffs are anxious to keep all miners outside because they suspect some have been smuggling food to Lopez. They expect to precipitate an encounter in a day or two, perhaps tomorrow.

MAY HAVE WORK OF FRAMING PLATFORM

CONVENTION FOR RE-ORGANIZATION MAY TAKE UP PLATFORM SUBJECT

Republican National Committee Which Meets in Washington Tuesday Will Be Confronted With Demand That Proposed Convention Frame Platform for 1914 Election Fight.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—The Republican national committee when it meets in this city Tuesday to determine upon the calling of a convention for party re-organization will find itself confronted with a well defined demand that the proposed convention take up the whole subject of framing a platform for the congressional election fight of 1914.

Reformation of the rules of the party has been limited in the discussions of the last few months to the proposals that the representation of southern states in national conventions be diminished; that primary election of delegates in different states be sanctioned, and that the national committee shall retire immediately when new members are elected instead of holding over through the presidential campaign as has been the custom.

Former Governor Hadley of Missouri will reach Washington Monday and a meeting will be held then of the special conciliation committee of Progressives and Republicans appointed at Chicago last spring, which has been foremost in pushing the campaign for party re-organization. While this committee probably will have no representative sitting, as a member of the national committee Tuesday its views will be fully protected.

Senator Cummins a leader of the "conciliation" forces, today said he favored the proposed national convention, adopting a new party platform, "providing it agrees on a thoroughly progressive platform."

"If it is to adopt a reactionary platform, I would, of course, prefer that it do nothing," he said.

The interest surrounding the Republican gathering was intensified today when Senator Gallinger, Republican leader of the senate injected presidential politics into the discussion by bringing forth Senator Root as a presidential candidate.

ELIHU ROOT SCORES CURRENCY MEASURE

Administration Currency Reform Bill Is Submitted to Severe Arraignment In Senate

FEARS CURRENCY INFLATION

Senator Asserts Bill, Without Statutory Limitation, on Issuance of New Currency, Could Bring a "Dreadful Catastrophe"

NO HOPES FOR EARLY VOTE ON BILL

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—The administration currency bill was submitted to a severe arraignment in the senate today by Senator Elihu Root of New York. He declared the measure without statutory limitation on the issuance of the proposed new currency, could bring about an inflation of currency that "would result in a dreadful catastrophe. The note issue section of the bill," he said in a dramatic peroration "exhibits the opinions of a great leader of the Democratic party whose financial heresies have been twice repudiated by the American people."

The only check to an inflated currency, Senator Root contended was in the hands of a federal reserve board "appointed under the same influence that put into this bill these false theories."

Differences of opinion appearing in the debate on the floor and a marked disinclination to compromise which was evident in conferences between Democratic and Republican leaders dissipated the hopes for an early vote on the bill.

Presents Amendment.

Senator Root in opening his attack on the bill presented an amendment calculated to place a restriction on the issuance of the proposed government notes by taxing the reserves held against the notes when they fell below fifty per cent and by imposing a graduated tax on issues above $900,000,000 and $1,200,000,000. Some restrictive amendment he declared was absolutely necessary. He asserted that the bill as presented by Senator Owen provided for "easy money for everybody" and that anyone who could "draw and sign a bill" could secure currency. An inflation of credit he said, could be prevented only by the action of the federal board.

"European interests are watching us closely," Senator Root said, "France never will forget her attempts to issue government money. Great Britain still remembers her inflation troubles. Long before the crash comes, the people of commerce and finance in Europe will have been its approach. But a very little loss of confidence will not merely stop foreign investors from buying American securities but will bring tumbling back to this country thousands of millions of our securities. They will have to be bought or the industries they represent, the banks holding similiar securities and the American investor carrying his business on similiar securities will go down to ruin. Europe sent back $200,000,000 American securities in 1907 and that was one of the causes of trouble. Last September $200,000,000 were sent back. It will take but a little loss of confidence to bring this whole structure tumbling down to us. The securities would have to be bought and the gold supply of this country would go to pay for them. If we enter on this career of inflation we do it in the face of clearly discernable danger, which if realized will result in a dreadful catastrophe.

"Heretofore when financial stress came there has always been the United States government, strong in credit to lend its aid, but this bill proposes to put in pawn the credit of the United States and when needs comes it is the government of the United States which is to be discredited by the inflation of its demand obligations which it cannot pay."

SCENE OF MASS MEETING BORDERS ON THE RIOTOUS

CHICAGO, Dec. 13.—The closing scene of the mass meeting here today of women and a few men to protest against the forced resignation of Ella Flagg Young as superintendent of schools, bordered on the riotious. The meeting had proceeded harmoniously until the chairwoman Mrs. George W. Bass started to read resolutions who had been prepared censuring the board. At this point John C. Harding, one of the members of the board who voted against Mrs. Young and who was relieved of his office yesterday by the mayor suddenly appeared and stepped to the front of the stage.

"I protest," shouted Harding and there were cries and shouts from all over the auditorium. Mrs. Bass tried to continue reading the resolution and was again interrupted by Harding.

"I want to be heard," he persisted.

"Sit down, sit down," came from all corners of the hall. Finally Mrs. Bass said Mr. Harding could have five minutes, like the other speakers.

"I can't say what I have to say in five minutes," he began.

"Sit down if you can't talk in five minutes," someone in the audience shouted and again there was a storm of shouts and cries and some hisses. "I will say that this is all wrong cried Harding trying to make himself heard above the uproar.

"It is wrong to say that the election was not on the square."

This was met by a volley of hisses and peers and Harding retired.

GUST PENMAN FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER OF HAROLD SHAW

DANVILLE, Ill., Dec. 13.—Gust Penman was found guilty of the murder of Harold Shaw at Urbana tonight, and the jury imposed a life sentence. The trial which lasted all this week, created more interest throughout eastern Illinois than any case for years.

The case was given to the jury at 4:15 p. m. and the verdict was returned at 10:40 p. m.

It was stated that the jury went unanimously for murder but there was some difference of opinion concerning the degree of punishment, some of the jurors advocating the death penalty but finally compromising on a life sentence.

Penman last August killed Harold Shaw of Urbana, while automobile riding near Sidney and buried his body in a lonely woods, the theory of the prosecution being that a desire to regain notes given by him in purchasing the automobiles from shaw constituted the motive while partly intoxicated.

The defense alleged that Penman was rendered irresponsible from being doped in a Danville resort.

BROOKLYN DID NOT BUY TINKER TO USE IN TRADE

Although President Ebbets Has Not Heard From His New Purchase He Is Confident That Joe Will Appear In a Brooklyn Uniform Next Season.

New York, Dec. 13.—"There is not a word of truth in the statement that we bought Tinker to use in a trade," said President Ebbets of the Brooklyn club today. "The Brooklyn club is not being run from Chicago, but from Ebbetts' Field in Brooklyn. We bought Tinker because thought his playing ability was a good business investment. He is now on the Brooklyn rolls and undoubtedly will appear in a Brooklyn uniform next season.

"I have not heard from Tinker today. Now that his release has been bought from Cincinnati, we will take up our negotiations in the usual order and we have all the winter in which to complete them."

Would Rather Play With Cubs

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 13.—"I do not want to play ball with Brooklyn," was the comment today of Joe Tinker on his sale by the Cincinnati Nationals to the Brooklyn club. The former manager of the Reds had no other statement to make, but he has not given up hope of returning to the Cubs.

He believes his sale was conditional and that by remaining non-committal he may force President Herrmann of the Reds to reconsider the deal.

Tinker has told friends he would not consider the offer of Ebbetts of $7,500 a year and a $10,000 bonus to sign unless the contract is for three years. He has said he would not consider a contract for one year unless the salary was $10,000 and even then might refuse. Tinker has said he will not do anything until he is convinced that he has no chance of playing again with the Cubs.

C. W. Murphy, owner of the Cubs, when he was in New York requested Herrman for permission to talk to Tinker and asked the Cincinnati president to make a list of players the latter wanted in exchange for his former manager.

"Herrmann wrote Archer and I stopped him right there," said Mr. Murphy.

FESTIVAL A SUCCESS.

The Jacksonville mid-winter festival is over, which all that had anything to do with it and the city in general may be proud. The Chamber of Commerce with its capable secretary, Mr. Fritchey, certainly planned and executed the event well. The total attendance was well toward 10,000, and the whole affair was a pleasant surprise to nearly all concerned. Many times one would hear the exclamation, "Why, I didn't know such a thing was made in Jacksonville." It was not intended as a money making affair, the principal endeavor being to come out even though there will probably be some surplus which will be put to a good use.

Tuesday at 2 p. m., all interested and especially the exhibitors are to meet at the Chamber of Commerce rooms to discuss the plans for next year. It has been suggested that it would be well to have it in central park for chautauqua week. It would be too much of a commercial enterprise to have on the chautauqua grounds but it would be well to have it where it can be seen by all who visit the city at that time, is the opinion of some.

Miss Bea Phillips entertained a company of teachers of the first ward and a few ladies who reside in the house with her and who are teachers in the fourth ward school, at a sewing at her home, 622 West State street, Saturday afternoon. The hours were from 3 until 8 and proved most pleasant ones. During the time refreshments were served. Among the guests was Mrs. George Birkenhead.

The South Side Circle held a very profitable meeting Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. F. Ehnie, 271 Hardin avenue. The Christmas idea was carried out and delicious refreshments were served at the close of the program. Mrs. Julia Hall read a story, "The Right Woman," written by Mrs. Leonard of Chicago, a former member of the circle. The paper of the afternoon was given by Mrs. Ehnie, the hostess, who took as her subject, "The Christmas Table and Its Dainties." Miss Odem, Mrs. A. M. Roberts and Mrs. Hall sang solos and Dean and Mary Winchester gave "O Holy Night" on the violin. Mrs. Mathew Rheinhardt of Lincoln, a guest of the circle, gave an excellent reading. Among the other guests were Mrs. George Van Velver of Mason City, Mrs. J. T. Little of Alexander, Mrs. J. H. Hubbs of Prentice and Mrs. Tindall of Arnold.

Miss Evalee Petefish entertained a company of friends at a sewing at her home in Literberry Saturday afternoon in honor of her cousin, Miss Kathlyn Petefish who is to be married next Thursday. Thirteen guests were present and the decorations in the parlor were in yellow and white and those in the dining room were pink and white. The afternoon was very pleasantly spent in sewing for the bride-to-be and in the sewing contest the prize was awarded to Miss Lillian Bateman and the guest prize to Miss Kathlyn Petefish. At 5 o'clock the guests were invited to the dining room where the table had been elaborately decorated for the occasion. Baskts filled with artificial sweet peas were placed at the corners of the large table and in the center was a bank of smilax, before which stood minature figures representing a bridal party, including a bride, groom, two bride's maids and two flower girls. At each plate were hand painted place cards of hearts and cupids. An excellent luncheon was served. The guest list included: Miss Edith Hitchins, Miss Dorothy Liter, Miss Odessa Braner, Miss Wilma Crum, Mrs. Oral Johnson, Mrs. Ona Crum, Miss Kathlyn Petefish, Miss Lillian Bateman, Misses Pearl and Esther Meyer, Miss Ruth McDonald of Jacksonville and Misses Lora and Evalee Petefish.

PASSAVANT HOSPITAL TAG DAY A GREAT SUCCESS

Receipts Will Total $750 to Be sed for Free Bed Funds—Records of Collectors.

Tag day has come and gone and it has been a great success. The weather was absolutely perfect, the response kindly on the part of both solicitors and solicited, and all has closed with apparently the best of feeling. Almost if not quite $750 will be the total income from the day and the worthy recipients of its benefits will have reason to bless the hospital and the kind friends who did so much to aid in caring for the afflicted unable to pay.

The greatest praise is due the chairman, Carl Weber, who wrought so faithfully, capably and energetically. He was active from the start and imparted to others his own enthusiasm. The pastors and other friends of the hospital also did their part and all working together accomplished great things.

The total amount secured for the Free Bed fund was something over $735.000 with one or two sources yet to hear from. It is expected to exceed the mark of $750.00 set by the chairman when all these have reported.

The chairman wishes to thank each and every person assisting in the work and the merchants who have offered the prizes as well as the citizens of Jacksonville who with a few exceptions contributed cheerfully and generously to the collectors.

A complete list of the societies and organizations which responded so graciously will be published later.

Do you know that W. D. Cody sells the best and highest quality flour in Jacksonville and that the name of that flour is Zephyr! Zephyr!

To prove this statement we point to the record made at the state fair baking contest in Springfield. The winners in this bread show were:

First Prize (sweepstakes) Mrs. A. A. Johnson, 1313 South 10th St., Springfield.

Second Prize (sweepstakes) Mrs. C. H. ones, 110 Bond ave. Springfield. Zephyr flour thus won both first and second prizes over bread from twenty other brands of flour. The loaves displayed were baked from twenty-two brands in addition to Zephyr, some of the best known and most advertised brands on the market today like Seal of Minnesota, Gold Medal, Pillsbury, Ceresota, Occident, Aristos and Snow White. It was easily shown that Zephyr flour had no equal among them.

Why not pay cash and get the highest quality flour here at a saving of 25 cents to 45 cents per sack.

GIRL HELD PRISONER BY MAN SHE WOULD MARRY

Answers Matrimonial Advertisement, Goes To Los Angeles, But Man Refuses To Marry Her.

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 13.—Answering a notice smuggled out of a little cottage in the sound end of the city, police women today found Bertha Lake, the 23 year old daughter of an oyster man living near Providence, R. I., who said she had answered a matrimonial advertisement and had been held a prisoner two weeks by the man whom she came here two weeks ago to wed. The man Robert Ciboch, a young Austrian was arrested shortly afterward and sent to the city prison pending an investigation which may result in the filling of a white slavery charge under the Mann act.

Miss Lake said she subscribed to a matrimonial paper published in Chicago and was attracted to the advertisement of Ciboch. A correspondence was opened which resulted in the sending of a ticket on which she came to California. Arriving here two weeks ago she said Ciboch took her to the cottage and drugged here after refusing to marry her.

Peoria, Ill., Dec. 14.—Miss Ada Heathcoat is on trial here for the alleged murder of George V. Barrick on October 5. The state is basing its claim for conviction largely upon the testimony that will be given by Sangamon Huggins the nine year old son of George Huggins, who claims to have seen the shooting and heard Barrick and the Heathcoat woman quarreling a few minutes before the fatal shot was fired. The defense will attemppt to show that the Huggins boy could not have seen the shooting, inasmuch as he was elsewhere at the time. WHAT IS A RESTAURANT?

Here's a Definition of the New York High Life Brand.

A restaurant is a place where you pay $4 for 15 cents' worth of food, accompanied by about $2 worth of light labor, light china and light music, which you have heard before. After leaving your hat with a Wall street syndicate you pay all the way from 10 cents to 25 cents for the privilege of getting it back and wearing it once more. The difference between a man and woman indeed today is quite simple. A woman pays $50 all at once for her hat, while a man pays $5 for his and $55 more in tip installments for storage at restaurants while he is vainly trying to obtain enough nourishment to sustain life between times.

The object of all restaurants is to furnish you with everything you want except nourishment. This is carefully extracted from all food before it reaches you.

Every restaurant nowadays has attached to it a homeless hotel and a drugless drug store, a newspaper stand, where you can buy a paper for not over twice what you can get it for across the street, and a box office dispensary, where you can get theater tickets for almost any night you don't want them at the same rates. Every restaurant also has a wine cellar which is filled with native cobwebs, European labels and California grape juice.—Life.

PETITION ASKS REMOVAL FROM OFFICE OF RUFUS POTTS

Petition Signed By Percy Sullivan and Edward Matthews Presented to Governor Dunne.

Decatur, Ill., Dec. 12.—Attorney F. R. Wiley, of Decatur, representing the Assureds' National Mutual Fire Insurance company of which Percy B. Sullivan is president today presented to Governor Dunne a petition asking for removal from office of Rufus M. Potts, state insurance commissioner. The petition was signed by Sullivan and by Edward Matthews, secretary of the company as representing the 16,000 policy holders. The petition changes Potts with not conducting the affairs in a proper manner and being guilty of gross immorality. It is alleged that the Assureds' company was discriminated against because it failed to join the Illinois inspection bureau and is said to be a fire insurance trust.

Governor Dunne it is said is determined to keep Potts in office until more evidence has been produced against him.

Origin of the Drama.

The drama, in the only sense in which it is worth talking about, had its origin in Greece immediately following the defeat of Darius and Xerxes, about B. C. 460. Its birthplace was Athens, and its fathers were Aeschylus and Aristophanes—Aeschylus of tragedy and Aristophanes of comedy. When the Greek and Roman civilization went into eclipse under the black cloud of northern barbarianism the theater, as with nearly everything else, became extinct, but during the middle ages acting was in a measure resumed in the form of the "Moralities," or moral plays of the ecclesiastics, and it was from such plays that the modern drama was slowly evolved.—St. Louis Times.

Flaky Piecrust.

If you want the best piecrust it should be made the day before you wish to use it and put into the refrigerator. Then the crust will be flaky and crisp. THE JACKSONVILLE JOURNAL
Established 1843

Published by
JACKSONVILLE JOURNAL CO.

Up at Elgin when an election was held October 22 last on a light bond proposition the people authorized the issuance of $162,000 in bonds for the building of a municipal light plant by an overwhelming majority. One of the main arguments advanced by the advocates of the bond issue was that if such an issue were authorized by the voters that the city commissioners would then be in splendid shape to deal with the traction company which operates in Elgin. The people realized that favorable action at the polls would give the city officers a very effective weapon in securing the right kind of service and rates from the utility company.

The local utility company wants something over $27,000 to supply street lights and furnish current for pumping the Widenham and Daub wells. Last year the total amount the city received from general taxation was $51,670.13, and the coming year the amount, because of the larger assessed valuation, will be $53,853.62. A contract for $27,000 would take more than half of the city's general income at one gulp. The city can save money by supplying its own current.

The poles for the new power line from the city's light plant to the Widenham and Daub wells have been placed. The wire has been received and will soon be strung. The whole bill for materials and labor to complete the improvement will be just about $1,000. And the expert estimate on this work was more than $4,000.

If the light bonds are authorized it will be the duty of the city council to employ a competent engineer to draw plans and specifications. then bids will be asked for the machinery and installation. If the total cost of improvement exceeds the amount which will accrue from the bond issue then the contract cannot be let. If the contract is not let then the bonds cannot be issued There is nothing to the suggestion that it might be possible for the council to start to build a plant and then find out that the funds were insufficient.

And if you, Mr. Voter, had the exclusive privilege of selling coal, or flour, or groceries, or dry goods in Jacksonville, and conditions were such that there could positively be no competition, what kind of prices and what kind of service would you give the people? It's a hundred to one gamble that the prices would not be as low and the service would not be as satisfactory, as would be true if you knew that somebody with capital and equipment was ready to start into competition with you if prices and service were not just right. It's the same way with corporations as with individuals and competition or rather the prospect of competition in furnishing light is a good and wholesome thing.

The voter who casts a ballot in the coming bond election should not think of self alone. The matter is of broad general interest and the decision will affect every citizen of Jacksonville today and for years to come. The advancement of Jacksonville is at stake and when you cast a ballot remember that a favorable vote will be a vote to put your home city on the list of those cities permanently fortified to demand satisfactory rates and service in power and lighting.

The promise of the local utility company to lower rates to all consumers if the street lighting contract is secured is alluring, but should not influence voters. Lower rates are certain to come if the bond issue carries and the city has a plant which can sell current for commercial lighting. Ten cents without a discount is the price suggested by the company if the city makes a street lighting contract. Records show that in some cities light is sold at six, seven and eight cents per kilowatt hour and still the producing plants prosper.

Chief of Police Davis has a list of about eighty-three persons, nearly all of them children, people he knows about and believes will not have much Christmas cheer unless remembered by others. This list has been made up during recent months by Chief Davis putting down the names and addresses of worthy and needy persons as the cases have come to his attention. City officials and employes at the city hall will see that a number out of this list will have something to make Christmas a happy time but will not be able to have all of the eighty-three on their shopping lists. Chief Davis will be glad to go over his list or to make suggestions to any "good fellow" who is looking for somebody to "remember."

One Morgan county boy is said to have raised seventy two bushels of corn on one acre of land the past year. If a mere lad can accomplish such results merely with industry and by the application of intelligent methods how vast are the possibilities which present themselves to Morgan county farmers. Land in this county commands a high price and evidently it is worth the omney.

W. B. Miser, the courteous, the efficient, the affable—the Journal reiterates the complimentary references made to this gentleman in these columns in recent days, endorses the many encomiums heaped on his head by the Courier and suggests—that the surest way to retain Mr. Miser is to support the bond issue and so make sure, that the city and not the company furnishes current for street lighting. With all the business corralled for the company, with no possibilities for the future, the chances of keeping Mr. Miser as a citizen, and a desirable one he surely is, would be greatly lessened.

FOUR-CENT RATE FOR ELECTRICITY PROFITABLE.

Springfield Register — Why shouldn't we constantly consider rates charged for gas and electrcity here in a city located in the richest bituminous coal field in the world?

Certain special interests rise up in holy horror at the very word "rates."

Officials who agitate that subject are classified as "cranks."

There is a reason. It is private profits!

The State Register takes pleasure in citing what other cities are doing. Special interests find some isolated cases of failure of municipal ownership—failures probably caused by special privilege interference, but all representative cases prove the efficancy of municipal ownership.

There's another case in point. Lodi California, has a municipally owned water and light plant. The financial statement for the fiscal year just closed is interesting.

There was collected in water rentals the sum of $20,022.72 and included in this amount is $4,233.57 which the city estimates it would have to pay for municipal uses if the plant was operated by a private company. The bonds, interest, etc., are taken care of, and the sum of $4,017 is allowed for depreciation. Figuring on every liability and expense, a net of $2,438.47 is announced.

The city of Lodi buys its electricity but operates its own distribution plant. The receipts amounted to $32,183.05. The city is charged in this amount with $5,813.80, which it is estimated it would have to pay for street and other lighting if the plant were owned by a private company. After figuring depreciation, bond redemption, bond interest, the cost of current, etc., the city claims a net profit of $9,924.57.

It is estimated that if the present profits can be maintained, the city will have paid off all the cost of the plant within twenty-six years, and will have made $321,4566.04.

And all this progress is made on a flat rate of 4 cents for electricity.

Is it any wonder that the thousands of "cranks" in Springfield who pay the freight are lifting up their voices before the golden throne of privilege?

WOMAN'S CLUB MEMBERS ADOPT RESOLUTIONS SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Hold First Business Meeting Since Last April—Mrs. Lambert Addresses Gathering.

Members of the Woman's club held their first business meeting since April Saturday afternoon at Academy hall when resolutions were adopted regarding the work of the women in the local option campaign. Mrs. Worthington gave an interesting report of the state federation meeting at Evanston and Mrs. E. C. Lambert addressed the members.

Minutes of the meetings of the club and board held since last April were read. Mrs. Lambert, president emeritus of the organization, gave a short address in which she said that she regretted that her absence from the meetings were made necessary during the past few years but stated that her faith in the club and its work had never waivered. She reviewed the growth of the woman's movement, told of what had been accomplished and what the women might do in the way of municipal housekeeping and urged upon the members that they should not shirk their responsibilities and remember that the word home as it new applies means more than the four walls of their individual homes. It was announced at the session that the January meeting would be in charge of the art committee. Following the meeting a social hour was enjoyed.

The resolutions which were presented by a committee composed of Mrs. E. P. Cleary, chairman: Mrs. W. H. H. King and Miss May Dummer, follow:

"The Woman's club since its organization has stood for a better Jacksonville. In various ways we feel that we can say we have helped toward this betterment. And in no one way perhaps have our efforts produced more far reaching results than in the four campaigns which have been necessary to keep the saloon out of Jacksonville.

"In the first three of the campaigns we could work only indirectly, but in the one recently conducted we were able to wield a direct influence through the ballot.

"That so many women came out on election day and that they gave so overwhelming a majority for the right we feel was due to the untiring zeal of the Woman's Central committee which had the work of organization in hand. And while this work was not carried on officially by the Woman's club the plans for the campaign were originated and perfected by members of the civics committee and they were ably assisted by many of our club women.

"It seems fitting therefore that as a club we recognize the work of Mrs. J. H. Danskin, chairman of the central committee; her co-workers, Mrs. David Reid and Dr. Grace Dewey and of all others who gave of their time and strength for the cause. To each and every one of these the Woman's club desires to express its gratitude and appreciation."

THE NEW LIQUOR LAW.

Some interest has been aroused regarding the ordinance passed by the city council prohibiting the shipment of liquors into Jacksonville. I take the liberty therefore of suggesting some of the reasons which may be urged in favor of that ordinance and some facts and arguments in support of its soundness as good law.

It will be remembered that something over two years ago the same ordinance was presented and Mr. Hairgove, our city attorney at that time, gave the matter careful investigation and passed an opinion that the ordinance was valid and could be enforced as to all shipments to Jacksonville from any point within the state, but also gave it as his opinion that it would fail to affect shipments from without the state. Since Mr. Hairgrove's opinion, congress has passed, so late as February, 1913, the following enactment:

"A bill (S 4043) divesting intoxicating liquors of their interstate character in certain cases.

"Be it enacted, etc., That the shipment of transportation in any manner or by any means whatsoever of any spirituous, vinous, malted, fermented, or other intoxicating liquor of any kind from one state, territory, or district of the United States, or place noncontiguous to but subject to the jurisdiction thereof, which said spirituous, vinous, malted, fermented, or other intoxicating liquor is intended by any person interested to be received, possessed, sold, or in any manner used either in the original package or otherwise in violation of any law of such state, territory, or district of the United States, or place noncontiguous to but subject to the jurisdiction thereof, is hereby prohibited."

This so-called Webb-Kenyon law, as its terms import, is designed to bring all shipments of liquor, from one state into the other, into agreement with the law of the several states into which the liquor may be transported and there is good reason for holding that if this ordinance is good as to shipment from any point within the state, it is also good as to any shipment from any point without the state.

Our courts are becoming progressive and here are just a sample of some of the latest decisions on this general subject: The supreme court of the United States in one of its decisions just this year through Justice Hughes made the following declaration:

"It is also well established that when a state exercises its recognized authority to suppress what it is free to regard as a public evil, it may adopt such measures having a reasonable relation to that end as it may deem necessary in order to make it action effective."

The supreme court of Illinois in a recent case sustaining the law against the use of liquors aboard a railway train, makes the following declaration:

"The use of intoxicating liquors is a recognized subject for regulation by the state under its police power and such regulation has been upheld to the extent of the entire prohibition of their maufacture and sale.

The supreme court of another state has within the last year used the following language:

"The validity of laws prohibiting the traffic in intoxicating liquors being conceded, it is obvious that the keeping for sale and the conveyance or transportation for another may not only operate in aid of evasions of the law prohibiting the traffic but in ordinary cases will constitute integral and necessary elements of the thing prohibited."

The supreme court of one of our states has within the past year used this language in one of its decisions:

"That all possible revenues through which prohibition laws of this character may be evaded or violated may be closed and thereby evasions and violations of the major legislative purposes prevented, is generally accepted. Extensions of prohibition to liquors not intoxicating is valid when such extension is necessary to prevent sale of intoxicants and is essentially the proper exercise of thepolice power to avoid difficulties of proof and perhaps fraud and evasions."

The 97th paragraph of Section 62 of the city and villages act of this state declares that city councils have power

"To pass all ordinances, rules, and make all regulations proper or necessary to carry into effect the powers granted to cities and villages with such fine or penalties as the city council shall deem proper."

Among the powers granted to cities and villages is the power

"To prevent intoxication;" To prohibit the sale or giving away of any intoxicating liquor;" To forbid and punish the selling or giving away of any intoxicating liquor to any minor, apprentice, servant or insane, idiotic, distracted person, habitual drunkard or person intoxicated."

These are the powers clearly granted to the city council and section 97, as quoted above gives the council power to pass all ordinances proper or necessary to carry into effect the foregoing powers.

Applying these laws and supreme court rules to the situation in Jacksonville we find that in four successive elections in Jacksonville precinct, the people have declared against the sale of intoxicating liquors, that in the city alone in September, 1912, the voters decided by a majority of two to one and over, against the sale of liquors in Jacksonville and that for six years no druggists permits even have been allowed in the city. If the people of Jacksonville desired to have liquor used in Jacksonville they would undoubtedly make some provisions for obtaining it in Jacksonville, for it seems inconsistent that the people would close up every avenue to the obtaining of liquor in Jacksonville and then complacently approve and acquiesce in the policy which permits anyone to obtain intoxicating liquors in some other benighted community and bring such liquors to Jacksonville for consumption.

The chief of police and the mayor of Jacksonville find such an ordinance, if the courts sustain it, a hundred times more effective in preventing the sale of liquor in Jacksonville and preventing intoxication in Jacksonville than all the police regulation that might be provided for watching and hunting up the stuff after it comes in. Therefore the powers which cities undoubtedly have to prevent the sale of liquor to prevent intoxication will be rendered far more effective by the enforcement of this ordinance than by any other means that can be conceived.

I might quote a few words from the supreme court of the United States in the case of the Noble State Bank against Huskell, 219 U. S. Reports, page 111:

"It may be said in a general way that the police powers extend to all great public needs. It may put forth in aid of what is sanctioned by usage or held by the prevailing morality or strong and preponderant opinion to be greatly and immediately necessary, to the public welfare."

Nobody doubts the "proponderent opinion" in Jacksonville is against liquor traffic and we ought not to be permitted to doubt that the courts will give that preponderant opinion its full weight in securing the enforcement of law. It may be uncertion whether the courts will uphold this ordinance, but the probabilities are favorable and it is very much worth while to have the courts pass upon it, but one thing is certain, that if the courts uphold it, the express companies, railway companies or persons who habitually violate it, will be in for the payment of enormous penalties when the end of the road is reached and the law is settled. If the express companies prefer the revenue derived from shipping liquor into Jacksonville over and above obedience to the expressed will of the people of Jacksonville and its city council, when they have these heavy penalties to pay sometime in the future, they will be entitled to but little sympathy, for if the courts uphold this ordinance, they will be indebted to the city of Jacksonville in the sum of $50 for each and every single violation occurring within two years prior to the suit. It would seem to be the wiser course for them to obey the ordinance and so escape a possible heavy liability in the shape of these penalties.

DISCUSS MARKETING QUESTION.

Dallas, Texas, Dec. 13.—The market of farm products was the leading topic discussed her today at the fifth annual convention of the Texas Industrial congress. Clarence Ousley of Fort Worth, a noted agricultural expert, and Prof. Charles B. Austin of the extension department of the University of Texas were the principal speakers. A feature of the meeting was the formal award of the 160 prizes, aggregating $10,000, which the congress distributes each year among the Texas farmers who have made the largest yields per acre of field crops at the least expense.

Copper Mine Buildings Guarded By Armed Men Against Strikers.

The Calumet copper mine strike has become more sensational than ever owing to the recent murder of three strike breakers by miners. Arthur and Harry James and Thomas Daily were killed by bullets fired through the wall of a house at Calumet. In the illustration are shown some of the mine buildings of the Michigan company, which are under the protection of armed guards.

LITTLE LOST SISTER.

Honest in its appeal and far reaching in its moral is "Little Lost Sister," the illuminating white slave play which comes to the Grand Thursday, Dec. 18. Miss Virginia Brooks, the Joan of Arc of West Hammond, Ill., who made the town fit to live in, is responsible for the book. E. E. Rose put the book into stage form. Every member of the company spent the summer in Chicago's levee district studying conditions there before the play was produced.

Perhaps there is no girl in the country who has had such vast experience in the underworld of a big city as Miss Brooks. She has depected what she has seen with the kindly aid of Mr. Rose. The play has great merit.

JOHNSON.

No. 49 South Side Square

FROM MR. LONERGAN.

Editor Journal In your issue of December 10, you state with reference to the Board of Arbitration which met in Woodson recently evidently on the authority of John E. Wright that the board decided Mr. Henry was wrong and should pay Mr. Grunder $50.00 because of failure to fulfill his part of the contract. The board it is stated also decided that Mr. Henry should pay Mr. Crain's doctor bill, hospital bill and one hundred dollars besides. Now if Mr. Wright, when he referred to the board meant Mr. Megginson and himself he is right. I was there but when it came to making a decision I might as well have been at home. When it came to signing the decision I would not sign my name to it. Mr. Megginson wanted to know why I should not sign it and I told him because I thought it was not right. He said that I was trying to lay all the blame on himself and Mr. Wright and I replied to him "To show you that I am willing to meet you half way I will sign the first two counts namely that Mr. Henry should cut the hedge and pay damages for not sowing clover and I did this." I would not stand for the other damages. Now this thing was only a family quarrel I believe and I believe Mr. Henry and Mr. Grunder could have settled the matter themselves if they had been let alone. Some of their friends decided to arbitrate the matter and to do away with all of the hard feelings. They did not mean to fine anybody or to put them to any unnecessary cost.

Mr. Henry and his brothers are extensive land owners. They buy lots of cattle, hogs, mules and sheep and buy considerable of these of their neighbors and they pay a good liberal price for the same. Now these men have made what they have got and they are the kind of men that help make this country what it is. As regards their honesty and square dealing I will leave that to the hundreds of men they have done business with.

JUDGE CHARLES BARNES IS CRITICALLY ILL IN ENGLAND

Cablegram to Felix E. Farrell Brought News That Well Known Jacksonville Attorney Is In Critical Condition.

A cablegram received by Felix E. Farrell Saturday morning from Mrs. C. A. Barnes announced the critical illness of Judge C. A. Barnes and expressed the fear that his chances for recovery were slight. Mrs. Barnes also stated that W. E. Crane was with them and would be in position to give all possible assistance to her.

Judge and Mrs. Barnes went to England a few weeks since expecting to remain six months or longer for the purpose of benefitting Judge Barnes' health. He had not been well for some months and during the summer was at a Northern Minnesota resort. He felt very much better after this vacation but decided that the longer rest of an European visit was the best thing for him. They went direct to London and since have been at various points in England and are now at the Leamington Springs near Birmingham. It seems especially fortunate that Mr. Crane happened to be in England just at this time as he has for a number of years been a friend of the Barnes family. With Mrs. Crane he recently went abroad on a business trip expecting to be gone only a few weeks.

That awful sourness, belching of acid and foul gases; that pain in the pit of the stomach, the heartburn, nervousness, nausea, bloating after eating, dizziness and sick headache, means a disordered stomach, which cannot be regulated until you remove the cause. It isn't your stomach's fault. Your stomach is as good as any.

Try Cascarets; they immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the bowels. Then your stomach trouble is ended. A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet; liver and bowels regular for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.—Adv.

OLD PEOPLE GAIN

Strength By Taking Vinol—Here Is Proof.

Many cases like this are constantly coming to our attention that we publish it for the benefit of others: Mr. John Widmayer og Jackson, Mich., says: "I am nearly 70 years of age and was in a feeble condition, but Vinol has done wonders for me. It is the best medicine to create strength I have ever seen and I have taken a great many of them. Last spring I was run down and worn out, but I took Vinol and soon regained my strength. Vinol is certainly an invigorating tonic for old people."

It is the medicinal curative elements of the cor livers without oil, aided by the blood making and strength creating properties of tonic iron which are contained in Vinol that makes it so efficient in such cases.

If you have an aged father, mother or any one in your family who needs a strength creating tonic, try Vinol on our offer to give back your money if it fails to benefit.—Lee P. Allcott, druggist, Jacksonville, Ill.

How Are Things Going With You?

If you are not getting ahead just as fast as you would like to, suppose you write me something about yourself and your ambition. Perhaps I can put you in touch with just the opportunity you are looking for. You see along a big railroad like the Burlington there are always openings for good men in many trades in towns that are growing and where the opportunities are good.

Sometimes, I hear of a snag in the way of a small dairy or truck farm. If I can't properly locate you at first, I'll make a note of what you want and write you when something good turns up. The railroad pays me to do this. You are under no obligation whatever to me or anyone else.

Why not write me right away while you are thinking about the matter? A postal will do.

GRIDIRON CLUB HOLDS ITS ANNUAL DINNER

UNITED STATES UNDER MEXICANIZED ADMINISTRATION.

Opening Skit of Annual December Function Pictures the U. S. Government Conducted on the Mexican Plan—Few Escape Shafts of Wit.

Washington, December 13.—How the United States would be governed under a Mexicanized administration; how the appetites of the hungry office seeker should be appeased, the secret of the perennial domination of Tammany, and the best way to dispose of undesirable statesmen, were some of the questions which the Gridiron club undertook to answer in a humorous vein before a goodly company of distinguished guests tonight at its annual December dinner.

Few Escaped Jibes.

Few of the company escaped the shafts of wit. Vice President Marshall, Secretary Bryan and leaders in the senate and house came in for a share on the gridiron, but it was evident that no one enjoyed the grilling more than the victims themselves.

Prospective candidates for presidential nomination surely must have been discouraged at the troubles and uncertainties ahead of them, when the American government is conducted on the Mexican plan, as discussed in the opening skit. An extra edition of an evening paper announced: "Grave Crisis in American Affairs. United States Mexicanized. Old Order Superseded. Dictator Takes Reins of Government." Whereupon appeared in the dining hall an army clad in ragged but gaudy uniforms, headed by Bryanna Bryana, followed closely by one Tumulto, with the announced purpose of giving an exemplification of Mexican methods as applied to American affairs.

Bryanna Bryana—"Viva Mexico."

Tumulto—"What's the Irish of it? I can't talk Spanish."

B. B.—"Well, you and your chief have been talking Spanish for some time. According to approved Mexican standards I have grabbed the presidency."

Voice from rear—"That's the only way you could get it."

Ordered Congressmen Executed.

The dictator then appropriated all the money in the treasury, and ordered the execution of a few congressmen. When urged to save a few for the next holiday he replied: "We can begin on the supreme court tomorrow.

Vice President Marshallera appeared and explaining that he had heard there was a vacancy at the white house, claimed his rights. He was, however, promptly ejected by the dictator with the remark: Rights! Why the only rights you have is to ownder about the president's state of health, and I am very well."

After increasing his own salary, Bryanna Bryana made all his army generals; told them he could not pay and sent them out to kill Champero Clarkista. But that astute leader won over the army with promise of pay and marching into the hall, overthrew Bryana and ordered his execution; which sentence, however, he was impelled to make worse by adding, "cut his vocal cords."

Hearst and His Mexican Acres.

Hardly had the new dictator assumed office and killed Senators O'Gormire, Reedavera and Hitchkok before the army which has been outside "reducing Senor Bryana's income at its source," returned headed by another pretender—this time "William Alsorandolph Hersta," who demanded the presidency on the ground of "the million acres I own in Mexico, that I want this country to protect." He ordered the army to kill Clarkista, who bitterly replied: "Too late. That's what your support did to me at Baltimore."

Hersta seizing the reins of power anonunced that he wanted to intervene somewhere, and when Tumulto said: "There's no war at present," replied: "Start one then and say I did it. Then stop it and say I stopped it."

Moosebullera appeared for the fourth time to "demand his rights," but scuttled away when Hersta threatened to print full reports of his speeches.

By that time the fickle minded army had been taken by "Battle Bob LaFolletto," who assumed command on the claim that "he is the only honest man in public life." He thrust out Dictator Hersta with the declaration, "I originated universal peace. Bryana stole that from me. I am the original true Easter. Everybody is busting them now—and they stole my stuff. I wanted the Progressive nomination for president The Bull Moose stole that from me."

Marshallera again bobbed up, shouting: "The constitution says—when he was cut short by LaFolletto with, "My dear sir; you are bewildered. The constitution hasn't spoken above a whisper for several years." Marshallera retired finally upon being presented with an enormous turnip.

Scarcely had the company recovered from such a fearful dream of Mexicanization when further disorder was created by the sudden appearance of Mrs. Pankhurst, whose shrieks of "Votes for Women" and demand for a seat or honor were finally subdued by the suave president's offer of hospitality, when he was warned that women now vote in ten states.

New Members Initiated.

Taking the public into its confidence, the Gridiron club openly initiated five new members into membership. They were E. A. Fowler of the New York Sun, Arthur B. Krock of the Louisville Courier-Journal, John P. Ryan of the San Francisco Post, Fred Essary of the Baltimore Sun and Thomas W. Brahany of the white house offices.

The initiation was to have been conducted by the federal reserve board, composed of Harry Thaw, David Lamar, Col. Mulhall, Jack Johnson, William Sulzer and Charles F. Murphy, headed by General Coxey, but these gentlemen feel into a general quarrel when they attempted to hold a meeting.

President Kaufman of the club ordered the admission of candidates to membership upon payment of their dues. But it seemed they were unable to meet that condition.

Said Candidate Fowler: "The administration's policy of 'pitiless publicity' has been so secretive that we can't get any news, and have lost our jobs." Asked why then they had become candidates, he added: "We relied on President Wilson. Listen to what he wrote in 'The New Freedom.'" (Reads) 'Let there be light. It is necessary to open all the processes of politics. They were been too secret; too complicated; too round about; they have considered too much of private conferences and secret understandings.'"

Chairman: "Surely you got plenty of news after that."

Krock: "Not much. Listen to the order issued by Secretary Daniels: (Reads) 'The secretary of the navy directs that all articles and information for the press be submitted to him before given out."

Miss Democracy Appears.

Sweet to the ears of the hungry office seekers were the strains of "La Grande Duchesse" as rendered by the nemurous music committee of the Gridiron club. Set to the old score, was the stirring tale entitled "The Ax of Adlai." The skit opened with the entrance of a winsome lass. She was introduced as "Miss Democracy" in search of a quiet place to "tend to her knitting." She "thought the white house would afford shelter; but weddings turn the place helter skelter." Attended by a chorus of old friends and poor relations, she sings:

"Once I was quiet and subdued,
"Not in the best society.
"With great respect I now am viewed
"A model of propriety."

Asked what knitting employed her skill, Miss Democracy replied:

"I've just crocheted a lovely tariff bill,
"A motto I embroidered cites these facts,
"God bless our home, but damn the income tax."

A civil service examination was held to determine the fitness of the many Democratic applicants for the job of one lone Republican postmaster. This was greatly against the will of the applicants, who chanted their dissent to the famous old air, "Ah. que j'aime les militaires."

The Axe of Adlai.

The examination displaced the Republican postmaster, but the process was declared to be too slow, wherefor Miss Democracy was forced to yield to the general demand for "the one weapon that fills the bill—the axe that Adlai used with strength and skill" and the curtain fell to this ringing chorus:

"Bring forth the cleaver, the cleaver, the cleaver,
Bring forth the cleaver, the cleaver of our sires,
Bring forth the cleaver, the cleaver, the cleaver.
We'll drop em and chop em,
The one way to stop 'em,
That meets our desires."

Timely and topical balads, parodies on men and things in the public eye, lightened the courses of the dinner. Here was a verse from "Let Them Go:"

"If Roosevelt yearns for the jungle,
Let him go, let him go, let him go,
If he would somehow get a hunch.
To invite old Huerta down to lunch,
If Huerta would go for a visit,
Where the Amazon's waters flow,
Theodore might show,
Huerta where to go,
Let him go, let him go, let him go."

Too Ill to Attend.

The following letter from President Wilson was read by President Rudolph Kaufman to the club:

"I am deeply chagrined and greatly disappointed that a very severe cold still keeps me in doors and will prevent my attending the banquet of the club this evening. 'deeply chagrined' because I seldom misbehave myself in this way and am ashamed and disappointed because I was looking forward to the evening with keen anticipation of pleasure. I am sure that I will miss you much more than you will miss me and I wish for you the jolliest and most rewarding evening."

IS GIVEN SURPRISE.

Miss Lenora Kennebrew was given a surprise party Thursday evening by her father, Dr. A. H. Kennibrew, in honor of her fifteenth birthday. Dr. Kenniebrew was assisted by Misses Turner, Seals, Dyson and Robinson, nurses of the Home sanitarium. The guests were members of Miss Kennibrew's Sunday school class. Music and games were enjoyed and refreshments were served in the dining room, which was handsomely decorated. The young hostess was the recipient of a number of presents.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE NOTES.

The Christmas recess will begin Friday evening, December 19.

A new flag pole has just been erected on the Sturtevant tower, to replace the one that was struck by lightning a few weeks ago.

The College book store has published an attractive "Calendar of Old Illinois." The calendar contains thirteen pages, with some fourteen views of college buildings and college life.

The address on "Life in Brazil" delivered by Mrs. Mary Turner Carriel last Tuesday, was greatly enjoyed by the students and visitors.

At the recent semi-annual meeting of the board of trustees, a resolution was passed formally establishing the John E. Bradley scholarship. This scholarship will become available for the first time next fall. The college now has a special endowment fund of $25,0000 to provide scholarships for worthy students.

President Rammelkamp will attend a meeting of the Rhodes Scholarship committee in Chicago on Monday, and a meeting of the trustees of the Illinois State historical library on Tuesday.

A letter was recently received from the Rev. Charles M. Eames, '04, who is a missionary in China. Mr. Eames has recently been appointed principal of Laughlin academy at Tsining, Shangtung. In addition to the principalship of this academy, Mr. Eames has supervision of some twenty primary schools.

GIRLS! DRAW A MOIST CLOTH THROUGH HAIR

Try This! Hair Gets Thick, Glossy, Wavy and Beautiful at once—Stops Falling Out.

Immediate?— Yes! Certain?—that's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a Danderine hair cleanse. Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff! cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few week's use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and just try it.—Adv.

TRADERS FORCE STOCKS DOWN TO NEW LOW LEVEL

Efforts of Bear Traders Are Furthered by General Lack of Outside Interest and Absence of Demand Around Current Levels.

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—Bear traders found it comparatively easy today to put down stocks to the lowest level of the present decline. Most of the selling was by the trading element on the floor whose efforts were furthered by the general lack of outside interest and an absence of demand around the current levels. The fact that the market ultimately rallied and closed a shade higher on the day reflected no improvement so far as was discernable in the character of trading and probably was due merely to covering such as is usual at week-ends.

At the outset the maket was firm with a brisk demand for stocks which have been especially weak recently. New Haven was bid up a point on the first few transactions. American telephone however, did not respond to the movement, soon reaching a new low point. New York Central reached 91, Pennsylvania 106 and American Telephone 114⅝, all new low marks for several years.

New Haven, however, kept slightly above its low record.

Significance was attached to the upturn in this stock, which for a time was the strongest in the list. It was said that accumulation of the stock by important interest was in progress.

The bank statement was an agreeable surprise to the street. A cash gain of over $8,000,000 exceeded the largest estimates and with a small decrease in deposits the surplus was more than doubled.

PROSPECT OF LARGE RECEIPTS GIVE CORN BEARS ADVANTAGE

Heavy Sales In December and Deferred Options Wipe Out Early Advance---Wheat Firmness Follows Corn.

Chicago, Dec. 13.—Hundreds of cars of corn headed toward Chicago from all directions gave the bears an advantage today in grain. As a result corn finished ¼@⅜ to ⅜@½c net lower and oats off ¼ to ⅜@½c.

In wheat the outcome varied from ⅛c decline to a like advance. Provisions closed 2½ to 7½@10c down.

Owing to the fact that most of the conservative interests in the corn trade seemed disposed at first to take a bullish position, the market for the cereal did not yield promptly to the influence of larger receipts here. Gradually, misgivings developed as to the prospects of unlooked for volume of fresh supplies next week. Longs increased their sales both in December and deferred options, so that an early advance in price was wiped out and a material setback took place. Feeling at the close however was steady.

Wheat firmness wore out under the pressure of bearish sentiment regarding corn. There was also talk that holders in the United States had overstayed the foreign demand; that competitors now have the lead abroad and that domestic investment ought not to be counted on to enlarge during holiday season. An advance at Liverpool and 2,000,000 bushels falling off in primary receipts for the week were sufficient on the other hand to prevent any serious decline. Steadiness ruled at the close.

Oats lost ground with corn. Selling was more presistent than for some time. One of the largest elevator companies was conspicuous in letting go.

Plentiful receipts of hogs unnerved the holders of provisions. Besides the pit took further note of decreased demand for meat.

YULETIDE PROSPECTS IN ENGLAND.

Note of Seriousness Everywhere Evident—Year Has Not Been a Prosperous One.

London, Dec. 13.—Once more the merry Yuletide is approaching and all England is preparing for the holiday season with all its traditional glamour and excitement and joyousness. High and low, from the king in Buckingham palace to the poorest cottager, is to some extent imbued with the Yuletide spirit which seems to permeate the whole atmosphere of Old England. Yet, in spite of the joyful anticipation prevailing throughout the country, even the most casual observere cannot fail to notice a dominant note of soberness and the absence of a great deal of the customary popular enthusiasm in the preparations for the coming feast

Industrial and financial conditions havenot been satisfactory this year. Labor troubles and industrial depressions have caused an uncertainty of economic conditions far greater than in many years. The high cost of living, irksome enough in times of presperity, has become an onerous burden under the existing conditions and all are suffering from its effect. Many thousands of persons in this city alone are out of work and in other cities conditions are not much better.

But, no matter how hard may be the times, how dear all food stuffs and how slim the fund reserved for Yuletide merriment, the people of England will not forego their observation of the greatest of all holidays They weill celebrateit on a smaller, more economical scale, perhaps, but abandon it, never. The average burgher may find himself too poor this year to afford turkey or roast beef for the Christmas table, but rabbit is good eating, shipped from Australia or trapped in England, are plentiful in the market and not beyond the reach of the poor man's purse.

LEAN CHRISTMAS IN WALL STREE.

New York, Dec. 13.—This is the season when Wall street begins to get definite word of what the Christmas stockings are to hold, and while official announcements are yet to be made, it is certain that it is not going to be a very joyous Yuletide for the majority of the workers in the financial district. The dullness of business on the stock exchange the past few months has already driven a number of brokerage firms out of business and others are preparing to close their doors the first of the year. The brokers' clerks realize the fact that the good old times of 25 and 50 per cent of salary bonuses have gone forever. Most of them will be thankful if they are able to hold their jobs.

IS ENGAGED IN GREAT WORK

Charles T. Paul, Who Speaks Today at the Christian Church, a Man of Experience in the Training of Missionaries.

President Charles T. Paul, who comes to speak at the Central Christian church Sunday, is one of the best known and influential men in that brotherhood. He is at present President of the College of Missions at Indianapolis—an institution for the training of missionaries for the home and foreign fields. This is a new field for college work and this school is being watched with interest by all denominations. It admits only graduates of reputable colleges, and gives them the special training in language, methods and influence that will most help them in their future fields of labor. Thus far the school has proven a very useful institution.

By training and practice President Paul is peculiarly adapted to lead this work. While the head of the Department of Modern Languages in Hiram College he organized and conducted the greatest Mission Study Classes in the world. Not only were the numbers large, but the influence on the lives of those who attended was profound. Later President Paul went to China to undertake the work of a missionary, but was compelled to return to America by failing health. It was then that he was chosen to lead the new enterprise just started at Indianapolis.

President Paul is a man of ripe scholarship and wide experience. He is greatly in demand as a speaker, being fluent, earnest and impressive. He has been selected as one of the teams to travel with A. E. Cory, whose company produced such an impression in the Christian church last spring. He is especially at home in dealing with students, and for this reason a special meeting for young people has been arrangtd for at 7:30 p. m., when he will address the younger members of the community.

Prof Paul Comes to the city in the interest of the Christian Woman's Board of Missions. Today is C. W. B. M. Day and Prof. Paul has a special message for the ladies of this organization which became recently a living link society.

NOTES FROM THE LABOR WORLD.

A labor temple is to be built in Duluth.

Thirty-six states prohibit night work by children.

Forty-two states have fixed a maximum number of hours as a working week for children.

With a population only two-thirds as great as the United States, Germany has a million more labor unions members.

Timothy Healy, international president of the Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen, has been elected a coroner in New York city.

Great Britain and Ireland, having not much over half the population of the United States, have about 600,000 more union laborers.

The American Federation of Labor has voted to continue the observance of the fourth Sunday in May of each year as labor Sunday.

An old age pension and disability fund will be sarted next year by the Bricklayers, Masons and Plasterers' International Union of America.

Ohio and Texas have been added to the 24 states and the federal government which have limited hours on public work to eight a day.

Berlin is considering a plan for a workingmen's insurance against unemployment, the cost of which is to be divided between the workingmen and the city.

It is the reported intention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada to enter the political arena on a larger scale and to organize a labor party on lines similar to the British labor party.

According to statistics compiled by the United Mine Workers' Journal, three times as many miners are killed in the unorganized states as in the states where the miners are organized in the union.

The average pay of every man, woman and child in the United States who works for wages or a salary will this year be close to $610. In 1900 the average pay was only $479, and 30 years before that but $370.

The employers of the United Kingdom are reported to be forming a new organization among themselves. They propose to raise a guarantee fund of $2,500,000, it is said, in order to protect themselves against strike movements.

According to a statement just issued by the American Association for Labor Legislation, the most important labor legislation enacted during the past year consists of the laws passed in Ohio, California, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and New York, extending the commission form of factory administration as adopted in Wisconsin two years ago.

On January 1 about 9,000 members of the Amalgamated Society of Carpenters and Joiners will become members of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, and the latter organization will then assume practical control of virtually all branches of the carpenters' union trade in the United States, Canada and Mexico. The menger of the two organizations is a result of a referendum vote recently taken by the general membership of both unions.

FIRST INDUSTRIAL EXHIBITION CLOSES WITH GOOD ATTENDANCE

Made in Jacksonville Show Ends With Musical Program and Drawing—Exhibitors Express Satisfaction.

When James Groves flashed out the lights at 10 o'clock Saturday evening as a signal that Jacksonville's first industrial week had come to a close, there ended an exhibition which, though not extensive, was comparatively in quality to shows of like character in the cities and which, many of the participants said, should become a permanent feature in the city's calendar of winter events. The Made in Jacksonville show, according to those who took part, was a successful undertaking and a credit to those who had it in charge. The attendance, it is estimated, averaged 1,200 per day, going one day as high as 1,500.

Saturday evening some excellent music was furnished by Wilber Jeffries, Dudley Hitt and Miss Clarissa Garland and J. H. Cain & Sons and the Jacksonville Tailoring Co. had their prize drawing. O. M. Commander of St. Louis won the first and Frank Ham, the second gentleman's prize. The lady's prize, a tailored skirt, was won by Miss Georganna Pacon.

The holder of the lucky number for the set of dishes, offered by the Brook Mill was Mrs. O. E. Johnson of North Main street.

The refreshment concession, in charge of girls from the High school had a profitable week, earning an average sum of $15.00 per day for the Jacksonville Literary and Athletic association. The food was all prepared by high school students of domestic science.

In expressing their opinion to what they thought of the show, the language of the exhibitors varied but the meaning was the same. "Its great," "fine," "as good as anything I've seen in Chicago," were among the expressions heard. One demonstrator described the show as "a good stunt" while another declared it to be a "humdinger." One said that it reminded him of a county fair while another man in charge of an exhibit characterized the Made in Jacksonville show as "a good beginning and something that ought to be repeated in enlarged quarters, from year to year."

Submitting to the Inevitable

The different cloak manufacturers on Dec. 1, 2 and 3 held their Annual Clearance Sale. This year their concessions were a total and absolute surrender to the peculiarly unusual weather conditions.

It happened to have been our lot to start in the Cloak and Suit business just at its unfoldment and to have followed it closely in all the different phases of its remarkable development.

Never in the last 20 years have the weather conditions been more unfavorable and never has there been more clean and desirable merchandise thrown on the market at such ruinous prices.

Our knowledge of the distribution facilities of this store led us to purchase largely with perfect confidence in the belief that these hundreds of cloaks would be sold in Jacksonville and vicinity.

A fact to be remembered, is that being sole agents for the PRINTZESS garments, we are the only ones empowered to show their goods at reduced prices. All cloaks are priced in six groups. Hundreds in all to select from with perfect confidence in the styles and guaranteed wearing qualities.

KING AND QUEEN OBJECTS OF A SUFFRAGETTE APPEAL

LONDON, Dec. 13.—While King George and Queen Mary were attending the opera at Constant Garden this evening they were made the objects of a suffragette appeal. A party of suffragettes had obtained possession of a box opposite the royal box. When the curtain went down on the first act, the suffragettes stood up and unfurled a banner on which was inscribed:

"Women are being tortured by Your Majesty's prisons."

The suffragettes started to deliver speeches, addressing the King. What they said was inaudible because their words were drowned by a volume of hisses from the audience. The king and queen meanwhile were smiling. The women were quickly ejected.

GOOD REPORT OF REVIVAL.

Dr. W. L. Dorgan, former pastor of the First Baptist church who went east several weeks ago to assist Evangelist Milton Rees in a revival, is now at Mexico, New York. Evangelist Rees was unable to fill his appointment there and Dr. Dorgan has been conducting the meetings. The press of that place speaks highly of the revival and of the excellent preaching and work being done by the minister. They have been having snow at Mexico and sleigh bells are heard everywhere, which is quite a contrast to the beautiful December days which local people have enjoyed.

SHOPLIFTER STEALS FROM PHELPS & OSBORNE

Was Caught in the Act of Putting Scarf in Hand Bag Upon Her Second Visit to the Store.

The firm of Phelps & Osborne caught a shoplifter in their store Saturday afternoon. The big crowd which passed in and out of the various merrantile establishments made this kind of work much more possible. The lady, who was tall, wore a brown suit and brown hat, had been in the store quite a while during the afternoon and just before she left one of the clerks saw her slip a handkerchief in her pocket.

The lady entered the store about an hour later accompanied by two other ladies. She made her way to the department under the balcony and thinking no one was looking rolled up a scarf and tucked it neatly away in her handbag. She was being watched, however, by one of the clerks, who informed her of the theft and also of the handkerchief, which she took earlier in the afternoon. She said she bought the handkerchief at the ten cent store, but when it was produced it had on the Phelps & Osborne tag. The firm made the woman keep the goods, pay a round price for the same and ordered her from the store, at the same time informing her that she ought to consider herself lucky that she was not turned over to the police. The firm is of the opinion that the woman took several articles on her first visit.
